TCCI welcomes Labor support for business charter

Tasmanian Chamber of Commerce and Industry CEO, Michael Bailey, has welcomed Labor's support for the TCCI charter.

"By signing the TCCI charter, Rebecca White has committed Labor to building a strong, positive relationship with the business community," Mr Bailey said.

"With both the Liberals and Labor signing up to the TCCI charter, businesses are assured that no matter the outcome of the election the next government will back business to create jobs and grow the economy.

"The Tasmanian business community is committed to working closely with the next government and the TCCI charter is a way for both parties to show their commitment to business."

The TCCI charter is included in the TCCI election priorities document, released earlier this week (attached).
