TCCI welcomes Mac Point announcement

TCCI CEO Michael Bailey has welcomed today's Mac Point announcement.

"This is a major step forward for Mac Point," Mr Bailey said.

"It's also great news for the building and construction sector. This project will support hundreds of jobs during the construction phase. Once complete, it will provide much needed inner-city housing options as well as tourism, hospitality and retail opportunities. This is exactly the sort of development that the business community has been calling for at the Macquarie Point site.

"Once remediation work at the site is complete, we see Mac Point driving investment in and around Hobart for the next ten years and this is an exciting step."
