TCCI RAT pack to help businesses

The Tasmanian Chamber of Commerce and Industry is helping businesses stock up on Rapid Antigen Tests.

TCCI CEO Michael Bailey has put out a call to all members who would like help.

“We want as many businesses in Tasmania to join our RAT pack,” Mr Bailey said.

“By working together and buying in bulk we’re hoping to make sure Tasmanian businesses can have a steady supply of RATs at a reasonable price.

“Tasmanian businesses will need a full suite of tools to help them, which includes good hygiene, masks and access to to RATs.

“The TCCI is here to do everything possible to help businesses, and the community more broadly, live with COVID in the community and helping to secure RATs is one way that we can do that.”

Mr Bailey said due to huge demand, only TCCI members were eligible. A form has been emailed to all TCCI members. To enquire about becoming a member, please contact the TCCI.
